NUREMBURG (a City of Germany, Metropolis of the Circle of Franconia) September 1.

THE Troops of this Circle have begun to move; and those of the other associated Circles will speedily do the same. We reckon, that before the Month of November, these Troops will form an Army of 42000 Men.

Leghorn, September 4. The Apprehensions of a Bombardment at Genoa are attended with some other disagreeable Circumstances; viz. the great Desertion of the Republic's Troops, which is occasioned by the Spaniards exposing them to the hottest Fire. The Corsicans, in the Service of the Genoese, also return home. They protest, that they are very willing to defend the Republic's Dominions, but can by no means relish being under the Command of foreign Generals; so that several Genoese Officers have nothing to shew but their Commissions and their Colours, but not one Man can they muster.

Dresden, Sept. 15. 'Tis assured that Count Kiowski, Great General of Lithuania, is upon the Frontiers of Prussia, with a Body of between 30 and 40,000 Poles, in order to invade that Country, as soon as he shall receive certain Advice that the Prussians have committed Hostilities upon this Electorate. The Court has received Assurances from that of Petersburg, that the Empress will immediately cause strong Representations to be made to the King of Prussia, upon the Subject of his Enterprize against Saxony.

Cologn, Sept. 24. The popish Priests, in the Duchies of Juliers and Bergue, received an Order the 15th Instant, to give Notice the next Day in their Sermons, That the Elector Palatine not looking upon the late Imperial Election to be valid, his Electoral Highness orders all his Subjects to continue to give him the Title of Vicar of the Empire, and to acknowlege him as such.

Paris, Sept. 24. M. Saladin, Syndic of the East India Company, is set out for Holland, in his Way to England; being charged with a Commission for obtaining the Restitution of the Ships lately taken in the East Indies; which, for several Reasons, the Public as yet are not made acquainted with, are supposed not to be good Prize. All sensible People, however, consider this in no other Light, than as an Artifice, made use of by the Government, to keep up the Credit of the Company; which, to say the Truth, it has so far answered, that their Actions are at present at 1130.

Hague, Sept. 21. The Abbe de la Ville, the French Minister, having received last Saturday a Courier from the King his Master, his Excellency delivered the same Day the following Memorial to the States General.

High and Mighty Lords,

THE King having been informed that your High Mightinesses were determined to send over into England, as auxiliary Troops to the King of Great-Britain, eight of the Battalions that defended Tournay, or the other Places which his Majesty has conquered in the Netherlands, his Majesty caused the Capitulation of Tournay to be laid before him, on the Footing of which the Capitulations of the other Places were made. There it is expressed in plain Terms, "That the Troops may not serve against his Majesty, nor against his Allies, until the first of January, 1747, nor perform any military Function, of what Nature soever it be, in the remotest Places from the Frontiers; and that neither the Officers nor Soldiers shall, during that Term, be put into foreign Service."

This Engagement is so clear and precise, that the King did not think he ought to give Credit to the Reports spread in the Beginning of the Month of August, that your High Mightinesses had some Thoughts of making those Troops serve as Auxiliaries to the King of Great-Britain in England or Scotland: And his Majesty cannot but look upon as an Infraction of the Capitulations he was pleased to grant to the Republic's Troops, the destinating or employing, in any Shape, those Troops as Auxiliaries to the King of England, after their having been obliged to renounce the Title of Auxiliaries to the Queen of Hungary for a limited Term. The Obligation of not going, during that Term, into any foreign Service, is even foreseen, and expressly stipulated in the Capitulation of Tournay, for any Officers or Soldiers of those Troops; and is consequently a much stronger Argument why it should be looked upon as a formal Engagement, binding the whole Body of Troops that falls within that Capitulation.

Moreover, High and Mighty Lords, your High Mightinesses will no doubt judge, that as the King and his Allies may have a Mind to attack England on her Continent, those Troops ought by no means to be transported thither, to serve as Auxiliaries; besides, that the sending them to Great-Britain, cannot but the better enable the English to keep up and employ against his Majesty and his Allies, in the Netherlands, or elsewhere, diverse Bodies of their national Troops.

All these Reasons shew how irregular it is to destine for England the Troops that made Part of the Garrison of Tournay, or the other Places conquered by his Majesty's Arms; nay, how absolutely incompatible it is with the Letter and the Spirit of the Capitulations. The King has therefore a Right to expect from the Equity and Bonne Foi of your High Mightinesses, who make Profession of being so faithful to your Engagements, that you will not so far fail upon this Occasion, as to violate those which which your Troops so expressly contracted, and which, according to the Laws of War, fall within the Law of Nations in the strictest Sense.

I have Orders, High and Mighty Lords, to sollicit a speedy and precise Answer from your High Mightinesses to the Memorial which I have the Honour to deliver to you.

Given at the Hague, Sept. 18, 1745.

Signed, De La Ville.

Hague, Sept. 24. Last Wednesday the States General deliver'd to the Abbe de la Ville, Minister from the French Court, an Answer to the [above] Memorial he presented the 18th Instant, concerning the Destination of the Garrison of Tournay. This Answer contains in Substance, 'That their High Mightinesses are always ready and disposed to perform exactly all 'their Engagements; but that they don't think they fail therein, 'nor infringe in the least the Condition of the Capitulation of 'Tournay, in sending over to England the Troops that compos'ed the Garrison of that Place when it was delivered up to his 'most Christian Majesty; because, according to the Terms of 'that Capitulation, those Troops do not enter into the service 'of any foreign Power, but still remain in the Pay of their 'High Mightinesses; nor are they to perform any military Function against his most Christian Majesty or his Allies, being 'only destined to act against Rebels.' The Abbe de la Ville has dispatched an Express to his Court with the said Answer.

LONDON, October 17.

Yesterday the Proprietors of the Prince Frederick and Duke Privateers waited on his Majesty, and offered the Sum of seven hundred thousand Pounds Sterling (their Share of the Money taken by the said Privateers), to be immediately employed for his Majesty's Service, which he was pleased to accept; and the Money is to be repaid in such Manner as shall be judged most proper by Parliament.

And we hear that the Gold and Silver is immediately to be sent to the Mint, in order to be coined.

Extract of a Letter from Newcastle, October 11.

"We are in good Spirits now, having between 5 and 600 Dutch in the Town, besides as many Soldiers raised to complete the Regiments that were abroad. General Huske takes a great deal of Pains in repairing our Walls, and providing every thing that may defend us, if the Rebels should come this Way; but we hear, they still remain in their Camp near Edinburgh, and are pillaging every one in the Country many Miles round that City; and have agreed to let General Guest and the Garrison have what they want, since they fired down a Battery they had raised.

They have pillaged the Earl of Stair's House at Newliston, six Miles West of Edinburgh, and seized on the York Buildings Estate, formerly the Earl of Wigtoun's, and made every one pay half a Crown in the Pound of their Rent. We shortly expect the King's Forces from Doncaster, and six Battalions from Williamstadt; and we hear that 6000 Danes are to land in the North of Scotland, so we shall have them between two Fires. I hope they will get no Assistance from abroad. Sir John Cope's Defeat, amidst it's Disadvantages, has had this salutary End; that it has rouzed the Nation, made us more unanimous than we were, and opened our Eyes to see the Difference between the mild Government we are at present under, and the Slavery and Tyranny we may expect, if it should please God to deliver us into the Hands of such Wretches."

From the London Gazette. Whitehall, October 11.

"'Tis said, that the Right Hon. the Lord Hesham, who is beloved as a Father by his Tenants in Shropshire, has enabled 6000 of them in the same Cause,

Several of the most noted Tradesmen of the City of Norwich have entered into an Association, to defend his Majesty and his illustrious Family, and the Protestant Religion, against all popish Pretenders and their Abettors.

They write from Dunham Massey, in Cheshire, the Seat of the Earl of Warrington, that his Lordship has furnished all his Tenants with Arms and Ammunition.

A great Number of young Gentlemen have met at the Gun-Tavern near the Meuse, and form'd themselves into a Regiment, which is to consist of ten Companies of 100 Men each, and is almost completed.

By concurring Advices from all Parts of England, there is such a Spirit raised by this insolent Attempt to disturb the Peace of this Nation, and weaken the Security of our Constitution, that it would be no difficult Matter to draw together such a Force, as would not only dismay domestic Enemies but also strike a Terror into the perfidious and ambitious Powers who support them.

On the late Attempt.

SEcure in native Strength we slept a while,
Nor fear'd the rash Disturber of our Rest;
Till from impunity Presumption grew,
And arm'd in hostile Ranks the Rebel Crew.
But, rous'd at length, the Genius of the Land
Arises glorious with a mighty Hand,
The lovely Isle thus in Peace remains,
While the grim Wolf prowls o'er the distant Plains:
But if the savage Sheep-biter shall dare
With direful Fangs provoke him to the War,
The Monarch springs, in Majesty confest,
Tears up the bold Invader of his Rest.

Extract of a Letter from York, dated September 30.

"I saw a Letter from General Guest, who commands in Edinburgh Castle; wherein he says, he had found Means to get 100 Men more into the Castle, Part of which are Stragglers from our defeated Army; so that he has now 400 Men with him, and nothing to fear. This Letter was dated on Wednesday last, to Major Brown."

Extract of a Letter from Newcastle, Sept. 28.

"Yesterday one Hixon, from Perth, was taken up here, on Suspicion of being a Spy for the Pretender; and after Examination, was committed to Newgate, where he cut his Throat this Morning. A Letter has been already found concealed in the Top of his Glove, which was immediately dispatched to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle; but the Contents are not known here. N. B. When the Post came away, he was in a fair Way of Recovery."

Extract of a Letter from Sheffield (in Yorkshire).

"The Right Hon. the Earl of Scarbrough, our Lord Lieutenant, has actually begun to raise Forces for his Majesty's Service with great Success; and the Regency of this Town, and the Corporation of Cutlers, have subscribed, as an Expression of their Loyalty, a large Sum of Money, towards putting the Multitude of their Journeymen in Arms, &c."

October 3. On Saturday last 6000 of the Dutch Troops that were quartered about Wandsworth, Putney, and other Places adjacent, marched towards the North.

Yesterday a Draught of 216 Gunners, Bombardiers, and Matrosses, was made from Woolwich, and sent away, with a large Train of Artillery, for the Forts and Castles in the West of England.

We hear from York, that his Grace the Lord Archbishop of that Place has put on a Lay Military Habit, in order to spirit forward the Execution of what his Grace has so bravely and patriotically recommended in his Speech at the Association there.

MAY friendly Arms, as well as Prayers succeed,
And save our Church — true Ministers indeed!

The Rev. Mr. John Gilbert, Rector of Whippingham in the Isle of Wight, has addressed a Letter to the Bishops and Clergy of England, proposing, That a voluntary Contribution of a tenth Part of the Year Income of every Preferment in the Church be tendered to his Majesty for his immediate Service.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Right Hon. the LORDS SPIRITUAL and TEMPORAL in Parliament assembled.

Die Jovis, 27 Octobris, 1745.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, crave leave to return Your Majesty our humble Thanks for Your most gracious Speech from the Throne.

As we felt the utmost Concern upon the breaking out of the unnatural Rebellion, which is still carrying on in Scotland, so we rejoy on Your Majesty's safe and happy Return into this Kingdom, agreeably to the ardent Wishes of Your People is proportionably augmented. We want Words to express the just Indignation and Abhorrence which rise in our Breasts at so wicked, traiterous, and desperate an Attempt, in favour of a popish Pretender to your Crown; whose groundless Claim we have unfeignedly abjur'd, and whose Principles and Designs, we do, from the Bottom of our Hearts, detest. And we beg leave to assure Your Majesty, that this rash and presumptuous Enterprize shall have no other Effect upon our Minds, but to excite us to such a Spirit of Resolution and Unanimity, in this critical Conjuncture, as, by the Divine Assistance may not only suppress this Rebellion, but confound and extinguish for ever all future Hopes of the Pretender, and his Adherents.

THE many evident Proofs of true Loyalty and Affection to Your Majesty, and Zeal for your Government, which, have already been shewn by Your faithful Subjects, with an Union and Chearfulness never known before, unless at the happy Revolution wrought by our great Deliverer King William the Third, are clear Demonstrations, that this Nation is determin'd to preserve the Structure built upon that glorious Foundation. Vain indeed must be the Expectation of those, who can imagine we would part with it. As Your Majesty has been graciously to accept, and approve these Beginnings, we beseech you to look upon them as an Earnest of the United Zeal and Vigour of Your Parliament, in the Cause of Your Majesty, and their Country.

IT is with Hearts full of the sincerest Gratitude, that we acknowledge your Majesty's Paternal Regard for the Laws of the Land, our Constitution in Church and State, and the Rights of Your People: And it is with the deepest Conviction, that we declare to Your Majesty, and the whole World, that the Continuance of these Blessings does, under God, entirely depend on the Maintenance of Your Majesty's undoubted Title to the Crown of these Realms, the Support of Your Throne, and the Preservation of the Protestant Succession in Your Royal House. Whoever can entertain a Thought of exchanging those just Rules of Government, bounded by the Laws and Maxims of this free Constitution, for the Exercise of Tyranny and Arbitrary Power learned in the most despotick Courts of Europe; and of parting with the purest Religion in the World, for the Superstition and persecuting Spirit of Popery, must be the most abandon'd of Mankind.

Warmed with these moving Sentiments, and unshaken in these Principles, We give Your Majesty the strongest Assurances, That, in Defence of Your Sacred Person, and all those invaluable Interests, which we have already described, we are steadfastly resolv'd to unite, and hazard our Estates and our Lives; That, from this Resolution we will never depart; but will heartily and zealously concur in all such Measures, as may most effectually conduce to extinguish this Rebellion; to deter any foreign Power from presuming to support it; to restore the Tranquility of Your Majesty's Government; and to add Strength to that excellent Constitution, which this flagitious Attempt is intended to subvert.

May the Divine Providence guard and protect Your Majesty's precious Life; give Success to Your Council and Arms against all Your Enemies; and Stability to Your Throne.

His Majesty's most Gracious Answer.

My Lords,

I Return you my hearty Thanks for the affectionate and warm Assurances of Duty and Loyalty, which you have unanimously given me in this Address. Your Concern for the Preservation of Our excellent Constitution in Church and State, is as agreeable to Me, as the Zeal you express for Me, and My Government: I entirely rely upon Both; and doubt not, but by the Blessing of God, and your Assistance, this unnatural Rebellion will be defeated; and the Peace and Tranquility of my Kingdoms restored.

From the GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE for October.

London, Oct. 21. The Earl of Chesterfield, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has, at the Request of the House of Commons of that Kingdom, issued a Proclamation, offering a Reward of 50,000 l. to whoever shall apprehend alive, or bring in the Body dead of the eldest Son of the Pretender, if he shall land, or attempt to land in that Kingdom.

Oct. 24. A Letter from Plymouth advises, that his Majesty's Ship the York, of 60 Guns, commanded by Lord Banff, chased ten French Merchant Ships, and two Frigates their Convoy, on the French Coast near Audierne Bay; and being in a hard Gale at S. W. was lost with them, and all the Crews perished.

ANNAPOLIS:

We hear from Dorchester County, that in the great snow in December last, a poor Man standing upon the Limb of a Tree, with a broad Axe in his Hand cutting off some boughs for Fire Wood, his Foot slipp'd and he tumbled down, and falling upon the edge of the Axe [which was kept uppermost by the snow] his Breast was cut quite open the whole breadth of the Axe, and his Lungs came out: A Surgeon being applied to, in a few Days made a perfect Cure of him.
